REASON 3d(3)

The Office of Training announces existence at this time of the following programs for overseas assignments that have been developed to provide area and language training and experience. These programs have been developed primarily for Headquarters personnel. They are intended as training programs. Operational activities, and official association with Agency personnel, are strictly prohibited during the period of training. Personnel interested in these programs and desiring further information may call Chief, Programs Division [REDACTED], x. 8518) 25X1A9a. Applications may be submitted to the Director of Training, according to dates indicated in the description of each program. Opportunities for area training overseas are not limited to these programs. OTR is able and willing to develop other programs as requested.

PROGRAM A

This is a two-year, full-time language and area study program on the Near East. The curriculum consists of one year of intensive area and language study in the United States, and one year of continuing area and language study at a U.S. government school located in the Near East. Seven candidates will be selected to enter the program about 1 March 1953 and to remain in the program until about 1 March 1955. Basic qualifications are (a) a bachelor's degree and competence to perform graduate level studies, (b) an above-average aptitude in language, and (c) TOP SECRET clearance. In addition, it must be demonstrated that (a) the candidate is academically and personally qualified, and (b) the candidate's training will benefit the Agency, in that it is related to his future assignment and that his unit expects to take advantage of his training in determining his assignment. 7 cm
